

Interfaith Communities United for Justice and Peace (ICUJP) presents

The Urgency of 9/11/11: Challenging U.S. War-making

Sunday, September 11, 2011 - 7 PM, All Saints Church
132 N. Euclid Avenue, Pasadena, CA 91101

Costs of Wars:

Post 9/11 wars cost U.S. more than $4 trillion.

Since 2001 6,081 U.S. soldiers dead; 120,000 Iraqi and Afghan civilians dead; countless homes and communities destroyed; millions displaced; economies devastated.

On the occasion of its 10th Anniversary, ICUJP honors Dr. Regas as the first recipient of the George F. Regas Courageous Peacemaker Award and announces the Regas ICUJP Internship

For more information and updates, visit www.icujp.org or email icujp@pacbell.net or call (213) 748-1643.

This event is handicapped accessible and disability affirmative. If you need any other accommodations, please notify us 72 hours in advance.

Media Sponsor

Accomplished jazz musician Bill Cunliffe, his band and singers will lead us in great songs of Peace. A distinguished panel of interfaith leaders will confront the agonizing realities of the wars and violence visited on the world these past ten years - killing, wounding and displacing millions of people, destroying countries and costing trillions of dollars - and explore how people of faith and conscience can help repair communities here and abroad and create paths to peace, justice and reconciliation.

Hussam Ayloush, Executive Director, Council on American Islamic Relations (CAIR);

Reverend Carissa Baldwin, Peace and Justice Associate, All Saints Church;

Rabbi Leonard Beerman, Leo Baeck Temple, Los Angeles;

Reverend Louis Chase, Pastor, Hamilton United Methodist Church;

Rabbi Laura Geller, Temple Emmanuel, Beverly Hills;

Aziza Hasan, Government Affairs Director, Muslim Public Affairs Council (MPAC).

Moderated by Reverend Dr. George F. Regas, Founder of ICUJP and Rector Emeritus of All Saints Church